EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

People need to have moral fear towards society and should show affection to fellow beings. They should be righteous in their deeds. Duryodhana had none of these. When Lord Krishna arrived as an emissary and stayed at Vidura's house, the latter said he did not relish Krishna coming to meet Duryodhana. Sri Damodara Dikshitar said in a discourse Lord Krishna told Vidura that people should not blame Him as if He had not taken steps to thwart the war.

Vidura told Dhritarashtra that because Yudhishthira was polite, serene, righteous and well-mannered, Duryodhana had given him all the trouble. The court astrologers predicted the kingdom would perish because of Duryodhana. Vidura warned Dhritarashtra to abandon Duryodhana. Dhritarashtra did not pay heed to the advice. Contrarily, the furious Duryodhana, bloated by arrogance, prattled with Vidura with harsh words piercing his heart, and so Vidura decided not to take part in the war but to go to the forest for meditation and have a dip in holy rivers.

Kundaleekan, a pilgrim, stayed at the house of sage Kukkuta near Kasi and enquired whether the sage had gone to Kasi for a holy dip. The sage replied in the negative. In a while, when the sage was performing yaga, seven women looking like great sinners came to the sage's house, and after some time, they exited as celestials (devathas). The pilgrim was surprised. The sage said they were none other than Ganga, Yamuna, Godavari, Saraswathi, Narmada, Sindhu and Cauvery, who came to cleanse their sins laden by people taking a dip. —In The Hindu

This shortest mountain is only 6.1 metres tall

Tokyo: Benten Mountain, in Tokushima Prefecture, is considered Japan's shortest natural mountain with a height of just 6.1 meters and a diameter of under 60 metres.

Located in the middle of fertile paddy fields along Tokushima's Prefectural Road 10, Benten Mountain is the shortest mountain in Japan and one of the shortest in the world. It takes the average person just one minute to reach the summit and yet over 10,000 people make the journey here every year for this specific purpose.

For some, it's just the novelty of scaling a 6.1-metre-tall mountain, others come to admire the wax tree, camelias, and other flowers that call the rocky mass their home, and a few make the short trek to reach the Itsukushima Shrine built in honour of Benzaiten, the goddess of wisdom.

Father and son create world's fastest drone

Cape Town: A father-and-son duo from South Africa created the world's fastest drone, with an average top speed of 298.47 mph.

Luke Bell and his father Mike of Western Cape, dubbed the quadcopter Peregreen 2 after an earlier model that reach 247 mph, Guinness World Records reported.

The drone is 3D-printed carbon fibre, battery operated and remote controlled. The duo tapped aero-thermal engineer Chris Rosser for help controlling it. For the record, they flew the drone in two runs in opposite directions, demonstrating its ability to navigate tail or head winds. They clocked the top speed of 317 mph and an average of 298.47 mph.

The Bells created the device over a period of months, troubleshooting problems. Mike Bell is an architect and his son is a content creator and ambassador to Sony.

REALLY...?

- The loudest ocean sound came from an icequake: In 1997, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) captured one of the loudest sounds ever recorded, which they named "The Bloop." The sound was loud enough to be picked up by sensors over 3,000 miles away.
- Originally, researchers noted that the nature of the sound made it seem like it came from an animal, although no known animal exists that is large enough to make that kind of sound. After 15 years, the NOAA concluded that the noise came from an icequake, which is when seismic activities cause a break in frozen ground.

Hazardous chlorine gas leak: 37 fall ill

Incident at Old Kesare scrap shop; toddler among affected persons; 26 treated; 11 still in hospital

Mysuru, June 8 (SBD, RK & BS)- As many as 37 people, including a toddler, fell indisposed following a chlorine gas leak at a gujari (scrap) shop at Old Kesare in the city last evening. The victims experienced breathing problems including breathlessness while some others had severe vomiting and cough. Oxygen masks had to be strapped around their heads at hospitals.

While 26 among them were treated at hospitals and discharged, the remaining 11 are still under treatment at K.R. Hospital on Irwin Road, District Hospital in Metagalli, Nagarajegowda Hospital in Alanahalli, and Prajwal Hospital on Outer-Ring Road and fortunately, all are out of danger.

DHO Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy enquiring the health of a boy, undergoing treatment for inhaling chlorine gas, at a private hospital in city yesterday. Picture right shows the gujari (scrap) shop at Old Kesare where the chlorine gas leak occurred last evening.

The incident occurred at the shed of 'Rida Steel Traders' when the valves of chlorine gas cylinders were opened to crush the cylinders. The leftover chemical in the cylinders started leaking as two workers involved in the task were the first to be affected and fell sick. Five workers at a sofa repair shop behind the scrap yard also fell ill, along with the residents nearby, including a one-and-a-half-year-old kid named Diya, who was admitted to KR Hospital.

Embezzlement of public money at Srirampura Town Panchayat

DUDC Project Director submits three-page probe report to DC

Mysuru, June 8 (RK & BCT)- Following a major scam being unearthed at the Srirampura Town Panchayat, where Government money was siphoned off and transferred to the personal bank accounts of four to five employees, Project Director B. Shubha of the District Urban Development Cell (DUDC), who is in charge of all Urban Local Bodies, has submitted a report to Mysuru Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra.

It may be recalled that on June 6, Star of Mysore had published a report titled 'Challan Scam Unearthed at Srirampura Town Panchayat,' highlighting the scam.

It was Shubha, who detected the huge misappropriation during an inspection of the records a fortnight ago. She instructed Suresh, Town Panchayat Chief Officer, to submit a report after checking the cash ledgers and receipts and matching them with the money deposited in bank.

Based on the Chief Officer's report, which highlighted the misappropriation of lakhs of rupees, Officer Shubha constituted an investigation team under Bannur Revenue Officer Basavaraju and Srirampura Town Panchayat First Division Assistant (FDA) Raghunandan.

In her three-page report to the DC, Shubha stated that since 2021, money collected in the form of taxes and other payments was transferred into the personal bank accounts of four to five employees instead of being deposited in the designated Town Panchayat bank account.

Duplicate and unauthorised challans were created to collect money in the form of property taxes and fees for Khata issuance and transfers. The report mentions the name of Namratha, an employee of Srirampura Town Panchayat and four others.

Confirming the receipt of the report, DC Dr. Rajendra told SOM that he would examine the report and also check with the Revenue Officer. "Action will be taken and criminal cases will be lodged against the employees if they have swindled public money. We will also have to examine if any outsiders are involved in the scam," he said.

Cylinder crushing in residential area:

MCC blamed for negligence

Cylinders to be shifted to Karwar

Mysuru, June 8 (RK & BS)- Following the incident of a chlorine gas leak, people of the area and the public have blamed the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) officials for their lackadaisical attitude, which has led to the proliferation of illegal scrap yards.

Questions arise regarding the safety of crushing cylinders at these yards adjacent to residential areas. Had the leaked gas been poisonous, the possibility of loss of lives could not have been ruled out. These concerns weigh heavily on the minds of general public.

These heritage street lights never light up Sunnadakeri

Mysuru, June 8 (MK&DM)- In yet another example on how the Mysore City Corporation (MCC) is wasting public money, the heritage street lights installed by it on a stretch of a main road in Sunnadakeri several years ago have been rendered useless, thanks to the apathy of the authorities.

The MCC had installed heritage street lights on one side of half a kilometre stretch of Shantala Theatre Circle - Siddappa Square Road that passes through Sunnadakeri, by spending lakhs of rupees. But even after 7-8 years of installation, these street lights have never glowed.

More than 12 heritage street lights were installed along this very busy road in Sunnadakeri at a cost of Rs. 6-8 lakhs. But these street lights were never operated though they were serviced with underground cables. As such, the entire project has gone waste, with public money going down the drain. Over the passage of time, these street lights have become dilapidated in the absence of any maintenance and also due to vagaries of nature. Now these heritage street lights present a dismal picture, with bulbs stolen from some of them, due to the apathy of the MCC authorities who were supposed to operate and maintain these special heritage street lights, in keeping with the rich heritage characteristics of the city.

Meanwhile, the residents of Sunnadakeri, one of oldest localities of the city, are lamenting the apathy of the MCC authorities. Arguing that the local people representatives too are apathetic towards maintenance of these special heritage street lights, they allege that no one in the Government seems to be bothered about the operation of these street lights even over seven years of installation.

Stating that this has become one among the several other projects in the city that have gone useless, they bemoan that public money is going waste on such projects.

Man arrested, Police recover stolen gold jewellery

Mysuru, June 8- The Nazarbad Police who arrested a thief, have recovered 72 grams of gold jewellery worth Rs. 4,75,000 stolen from him, in a Kalyana Mantap at Siddartha Layout in the city.

Following a complaint that gold jewellery was stolen from the vanity bag of a woman who had come to attend a marriage at Kanaka Bhavan choultry in Siddartha Layout on May. 31, the Police picked up a man who was wandering around in a suspicious manner near the choultry itself on Vinaya Marga in Siddartha Layout the same night (May. 31). During interrogation, the man spilled the beans on having stolen gold jewellery kept in a vanity bag in the choultry, following which the Police recovered 72 gram gold jewellery worth Rs. 4.75 lakh from him.

The nabbing and recovery operation was carried out by Nazarbad Police Inspector M. Mahadevaswamy, PSI Srinivas Patil and staff.

Scooterists injured in accident near Nanjumalige

Mysuru, June 8 (MK&DM)- Two scooterists were injured when the two-wheeler they were riding, was hit by a Toyota Innova car near Nanjumalige in the city on June 2.

The injured scooterists have been identified as 58-year-old Srinivas and his nephew 14-year-old Mohan Kumar, residents of Sunnadakeri.

The two were riding on a Honda Activa scooter (KA-09/HW 0120) near a fish booth at Nanjumalige, when the speeding Innova car rammed into their scooter.

Due to the impact of the collision, both the riders fell down and sustained injuries and were rushed to a private hospital nearby.

The K.R. Traffic Police have registered a case in this regard.

Vehicle checking drive

K.R. Nagar, June 8 (KS)- A sudden drive against traffic offenders which was held near Hampapura Railway track close to the town by K.R. Nagar Police led by Circle Inspector P.P. Santosh, caught many motorists, who were riding and driving without valid licence, offguard.

Goods vehicles transporting sheep without permit, two-wheeler riders without driving licence, and triple riders were intercepted, imposed fines and were let off with a warning.

Circle Inspector Santosh said that the drive was conducted following instructions from the higher officers to prevent road accidents, incidents of dacoity and robberies.

"If vehicle owners were found carrying all relevant documents, such vehicle owners were let off. While a few two-wheeler riders were found riding without licence," he added.

Constables Manjanna, Ali and others took part in the checking drive.

CET results leave studious students in the lurch

Sir,

This time, the CET result has shocked many intelligent, studious and hard-working students, particularly those who have achieved excellent percentages in their second PUC or 12th standard. All of them complained that the CET question papers were unusually tough.

In this scenario, it will be difficult for these bright kids to pursue their ambitious careers in engineering fields. When Government colleges deny seats, most cannot even think of getting into private colleges, which demand exorbitant donations and fees.

The career ambitions of most of the students will be nipped in the bud, which is quite saddening. I hope something is done to reduce the fee structure in private institutions to enable underprivileged children to get good opportunities in education.

Apart from this, more information, initiatives and opportunities should be available for students after school to take up Pure Science. The value of Pure Science should be taught at high school level to groom more professors and scientists in the future.

Post Election Musings

The Lotus Wilts: A Tale of Humility & Hope

Tuesday brought a humbling reckoning for the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and a surge of hope for the I.N.D.I.A bloc. Despite a technical victory, the BJP's performance fell short of expectations, while the I.N.D.I.A bloc found renewed vigour in their unexpected successes.

Arrogance Meets Reality

The BJP, confident in their dominance, boldly predicted a sweep of 400 seats but stumbled, failing to secure even a simple majority of 272 seats. This overconfidence, juxtaposed with the spirited resurgence of the I.N.D.I.A bloc, marks a significant shift in the political landscape — the coalition era is back.

Unforced Errors: A Tennis Analogy

The timing of this election verdict, coinciding with the French Open, invokes the tennis term 'unforced error' — a mistake not forced by an opponent but self-inflicted. The BJP's campaign was rife with such errors, particularly in Uttar Pradesh, Maharashtra, and Rajasthan.

A Fragmented Election

Unlike previous Lok Sabha elections, this one lacked a cohesive National or Presidential character. It unfolded as a series of State elections, with its prolonged, multi-phase nature intensifying local and casteist dynamics. The Modi magic, which has waned, gave way to regional leaders and caste equations.

The Uttar Pradesh Mis-step

In Uttar Pradesh, discontent over unemployment and price rise was less significant than caste miscalculations. The Samajwadi Party's (SP) strategic pivot to the 'PDA' coalition (Pichhada, Dalits and Alpsankhyaks) reaped rewards, securing a diverse array of winners.

Meanwhile, the BJP's ticket distribution, directed by a Delhi-centric committee, alienated key communities like the Jats, Meenas and Rajputs, echoing similar failures in Rajasthan.

The Gujarati Conundrum

A pervasive narrative of Gujarati dominance in contracts, combined with rumours of Amit Shah sidelining Yogi Adityanath, fuelled regional resentment.

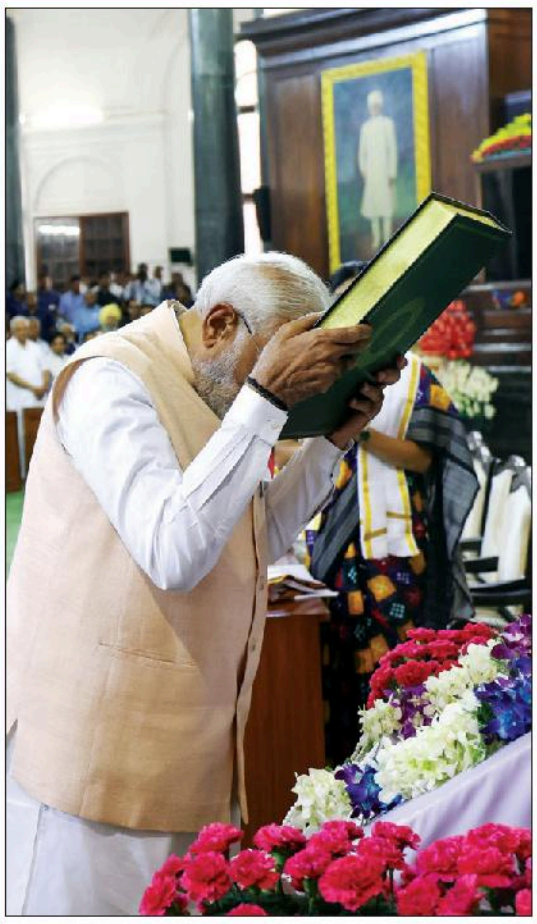
A similar sentiment has manifested in Maharashtra. Gujaratis and Maharashtrians have had a long history of discord.

With Modi and Shah breaking the Shiv Sena, a party built on Maratha Pride, where they even snatched away that party's symbol, has re-ignited the Gujarati-Marathi divide.

The duo from Gujarat have hurt the Marathi 'manoos,' and the BJP has paid the price this election, and they will pay the price again in the upcoming State election.

Rotten Apples in Operation Lotus

Beneath Modi's 'Chowkidar' rhetoric, the BJP's ranks swelled with defectors, dampening grassroots enthusiasm. Nearly a quarter of BJP candidates were turncoats, undermining the loyalty and morale of long-standing party workers.



Prime Minister Narendra Modi bows before the copy of Constitution of India prior to his address at the NDA Parliamentary meeting at the Central Hall of Samvidhan Sadan (Old Parliament) in New Delhi on Friday.

This lack of enthusiasm among party workers led to lacklustre voter turnout despite stern directives from party leadership to get voters to the booth.

From Statesman to Fear-monger

As the campaign faltered, Modi abandoned his 'Sabka Vikas' mantra, resorting to fear-mongering tactics. His rhetoric shifted to divisive issues like 'love jihad' and economic redistribution to alleged 'infiltrators' and 'those with more children,' tarnishing his burgeoning Statesman-like image.

Modi was developing a Statesman-like 'vibe,' as youngsters would say, as he met world leaders, upped Indians' status globally, spoke of 'Sabka Saath Sabka Vikas,' etc. But now, in this election panic, Modi went down a path that may never give him that coveted title — 'Statesman.'

But the course correction has already begun. Yesterday, addressing the NDA leaders, Modi said, "They (Opposition) are not against the nation, they are against the BJP" and called for more debates.

Finally, an acknowledgement that critiquing the BJP does not mean being anti-national.

Also, NDA member Chandrababu Naidu put a check on the hate rhetoric at the joint meeting. He ended his speech by quoting his father-in-law and TDP Founder, N.T. Rama Rao, saying, "I don't do any 'ism'. I know only one 'ism' — humanism."

Development Vs Electoral Realities

Indian voters are more swayed by caste dynamics than developmental progress and this election highlights the complex and often regressive nature of Indian electoral politics.

Even its harshest critics must concede that this Government has done work. Yes, there have been bad policy matters, but there have been good ones, too, from decriminalising homosexuality to infrastructure development, from digital economy to direct delivery of schemes. But why is this not enough for an Indian voter?

Many say this electoral outcome is because the Indian voter was frustrated with price rises, unemployment, hate speeches, etc. In a way suggesting that the Indian voter is intelligent or mature. How we wish this were true.

The harsh truth is that the Indian voter is more a casteist than a nationalist.

The voters did not teach the BJP a lesson because of its hate speeches, lack of job creation, price rise, etc... They taught them a lesson for allowing two Gujaratis to hijack a party. It taught the BJP a lesson for not appreciating caste equations.

With that said, this election outcome may have terrible consequences — forget development, give freebies and play caste politics.

The Path Ahead: Coalition & Caste

This election underscores a troubling shift towards caste and coalition politics, potentially sidelining development agendas. But also, majoritarian Governments slipping into authoritarianism will now know that such Governments will be changed even if it's not for the right reasons always.

As we step back into coalition politics, the BJP will surely do their caste arithmetic better next time. Amit Shah could be relegated to Gujarat as CM, while Shivraj Singh Chouhan could be made BJP President and PM? Well... India, get ready for coalition Governments and a slew of PMs and Deputy PMs.

The Silent Victor: EVMs

Amidst the electoral upheaval, one entity emerged unscathed — the Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs).

For once, the integrity of the electoral process was unquestioned, providing a rare moment of consensus in a polarised political environment.

In conclusion, this election will be remembered not just for its victors, which was everyone, but for the profound lessons it imparted on the perils of arrogance and the enduring complexities of Indian democracy.

The Only Loser

This election was such that everyone was a winner, but there was one loser — Exit polls.

Hazardous chlorine gas leak

The names of some of the other victims are: Prema, 55 years; Bhavana, 25 years; Pavan, 8 years; Bihath, 10 years; Chaitanya, 9 years; Bhaskar, 8 years; Nandan, 5 years; Vidyashree, 28 years; Shwetha, 28 years; Jaleelia, 2 years; Gowramma, 70 years; Nagaraju, 10 years; Vijayalakshmi, 35 years; Jyothivani, 23 years; Netravathi, 25 years; Deepti, 28 years; Vishalakshi, and Sonia, 20 years.

Some among them experienced breathing problems, while some others had severe vomiting and cough. They were all rushed to hospitals promptly, which came in handy in providing timely treatment.

The unsuspecting people staying near the scrap yard were initially anxious as some among them started falling ill, as the gas quickly pervaded the locality.

Learning about the incident, fire services personnel attached to Bannimantap Fire Station rushed to the scrap yard and stopped further leakage, averting the possibility of a major accident. The cylinders were later shifted to another safe location.

Chief Fire Officer (CFO) Jayaramaiah, Regional Fire Officer (RFO) Chandan, and District Fire Officer (DFO) Ramesh visited the spot. They also warned scrap dealers against crushing empty cylinders in residential areas.

District Health Officer (DHO) Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy, who also visited the spot and enquired about the health condition of the affected individuals at the hospitals.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Dr. Kumaraswamy said, "Many people were affected by the chlorine leak and some of them have already been discharged from hospitals after treatment. The others admitted at the hospitals are recovering."

City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh, along with DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj and DCP (Crime and Traffic) S. Jahnavi, inspected the scrap yard and directed the jurisdictional Narasimharaja (NR) Police Station Officers to file a case against the shop owner for negligence. They cited the crushing of cylinders without taking safety measures as the cause, endangering the health of others.

Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra also visited the spot and assessed the situation, with a large number of Policemen deployed in the area.

Scrap cylinders bought at Davangere auction

Mysuru, June 8 (SBD,RK&BS)-Mohammed, the owner of the scrap shop where the incident occurred, had purchased old machinery, chlorine cylinders and other equipment in an auction from the water purification unit of Davangere City Corporation three months ago. He had stored them in the shed of his shop, which were then taken out for crushing at about 6 pm. Prior to crushing the cylinders, the valves were opened, leading to the leak of left over gas, confirmed City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh.

A similar incident two years ago

In a similar incident that occurred two years ago on March 8, 2022, over 70 people fell ill when the valves of chlorine cylinders, kept near Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW) adjacent to the Railway Department staff quarters in Yadavagiri, got cut, resulting in the leakage of a large quantity of chemicals.

Following the gas leak, those passing by on KRS Road, staff of VVWW, and residents of Railway Quarters, totalling over 70 people, fell ill. They were all treated at Railway Hospital, K.R. Hospital, and private hospitals.

Traffic was prohibited on the stretch of KRS Road for some time, while Fire and Emergency Services personnel took preventive measures to stop the spread of gas. A retired employee of VVWW succeeded in closing the valve before shifting the cylinders to another place.

The District Administration should take serious action before another major incident occurs. With MCC officials seemingly inactive, the public have demanded swift action, especially considering the frequent minor accidents reported in scrap yards.

Cylinders to be shifted to Karwar: With Mysuru city lacking the technology for safe disposal of chlorine gas cylinders, authorities are considering shifting the cylinders in question to Karwar in Uttara Kannada district.

The cylinders will likely be moved to Karwar this afternoon, where professionals handle the crushing of cylinders by releasing the leftover gas into the sea, according to reports.

A total of six cylinders have been relocated to a vacant plot located approximately 150 metres from the site of the incident, near Varuna Canal. The Deputy Commissioner of Uttara Kannada has been contacted and steps are being taken to transport the cylinders to Karwar today.

NCC Cadets lead cleaning drive at Varuna Lake

Mysuru, June 8 (BCT)- In an inspiring effort to sensitise young learners about pressing environmental issues, the NCC Cadets of Delhi Public School (DPS) Mysore, part of the 13 KAR BN NCC Mysuru, spearheaded a lake cleaning drive at Varuna Lake, Varuna hobli, Mysuru.

This initiative was conducted under the theme 'Lifestyle for The World Environment Day' as part of the 'Punit Sagar Abhiyan.'

The drive saw the enthusiastic participation of 40 Cadets, who cheerfully dedicated their efforts to cleaning up the lake.

The Cadets collected an impressive 500 kgs of waste and plastic throughout the drive, significantly contributing to the lake's restoration and cleanliness.

The team was led by Third Officer M. Mamatha Prasad, who ensured that the Cadets worked efficiently and safely.

Under her leadership, the Cadets not only engaged in the physical task of cleaning but also gained a deeper understanding of the impact of pollution and the importance of collective action in environmental conservation.

Kukkarahalli Lake path area cleaned to facilitate walking

Mysuru, June 8 (BCT)- The Wadiyar Centre for Architecture (WCFA), Mysuru, recently marked Environmental Day with a significant clean-up activity at the Kukkarahalli Lake path area, aiming to boost environmental awareness and community involvement.

Considerable investment ensured the safety and comfort of participants, with funds allocated for T-shirts, masks and gloves for students and the public.

Enthusiastic students and faculty members took pride in their work, significantly improving the cleanliness of the Lake path area. The initiative also received warm support from the public, who appreciated the effort and expressed a desire for similar events in the future.

The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Horticulture Department, represented by S.K. Muzar and Aswath Prasad, along with Supervisor Raghavendra and staff, provided invaluable assistance in clearing the collected garbage. This collaborative effort highlighted the importance of community engagement in environmental conservation. The event's success was largely attributed to the dedication of faculty coordinator Deepak Ramachandra and the active involvement of Student Council President Dhanush.

The event improved the local environment and fostered a sense of community and responsibility among participants. It was planned and executed by the Administrative Department under the guidance of Administrative Officer Srinath Bhadram and Principal Anand Krishnamurthy.

Vehicle parking by public in front of apartments, houses cause rift

Guards, house owners object to parking by public

Mysuru, June 8 (RK&BCT)- Are the roads in front of apartment complexes and shopping outlets in prestigious areas and posh localities owned by the apartments? How can these apartment residents object to vehicles parked on the public roads? Are the roads a private property?

These are a few questions bothering commuters and vehicle owners as the security guards from these posh apartment complexes shoo away people who park on the roads in front of such buildings. These security guards use filthy language against the people who park, and even women and children are not spared.

Of late, many such complaints of abuse are being heard from people who park vehicles on public roads where there is enough space to park. Though the vehicles do not cause any disturbance to the residents of these apartments, vehicle owners who park their cars even for a short time face abuse from the security guards hired by the apartment residents and their associations.

The problem is particularly observed on Contour Road in Gokulam, the Main Road in Jayalakshmipuram and certain apartment complexes in these areas. Commuters have complained that, although these are well-planned areas with wide roads and ample parking space, certain apartment owners object to parking on the roads.

"The security guards hired by these apartment owners and residents' associations use foul language and even threaten us with dire consequences if we park our vehicles on the road. These are not 'No Parking' areas. We understand if the Traffic Police have demarcated a particular zone as a no parking area, but these security guards and apartment owners consider the public roads as their private property," said a motorist who was threatened by guards in Gokulam.

"As soon as we park our cars or two-wheelers on the roads, these security guards come running to tell us not to park. If we tell them it is a public road and a parking zone and we have a right to park, they resort to abuse and use intimidating language. Even women and children are not spared," he added.

Commuters said that they, too, pay taxes to the Government and park their vehicles in vacant spaces on the road where parking is not banned, without causing any problems for the apartment owners and residents. Still, they are prevented from parking.

"The security guards must prevent thefts inside the apartments and unauthorised entries. These are their only duties. They must not bother about who is parking and where. This is not their job, and the apartment owners must instruct them not to poke their noses in public affairs. Apartments have no right to object to parking in a public place. If we park inside the apartment complexes, they have every right to object," said another resident of the area who was also abused by security guards.

Commuters have appealed to the Police and the Mysuru City Corporation to intervene and prevent this public nuisance. "The law is equal to all, and these apartment residents are not beyond the law," they said.

When Star of Mysore asked some apartment residents and the house owners, they spoke of the nuisance these vehicle users cause to them in many ways.

For example, one lady said that vehicles are parked in front of their gate blocking the free movement from and to their houses or apartments. These road-users park their vehicles in a haphazard way, many times causing traffic jam. Some in the night park their vehicles for amorous activities, they complained.

When the road-users do not use their "parking right" responsibly, only then they are threatened or shouted at. Regular Police beat on busy roads and business-cum-residential areas may help, they said.

It may be recalled that on June 2, a member of the public had parked his car obstructing the passage of a doctor's car to his house which resulted in an argument and ended up in road rage where the doctor was assaulted and a Police complaint was lodged.

High alert in Delhi

According to Delhi Police, a multi-layered security arrangement, including five companies of paramilitary personnel, NSG commandos, drones, and snipers, will cover the event. As the day is set to witness the presence of dignitaries from SAARC (South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation) nations, the security cover is expected to resemble that of G20 summit last year.

Apart from foreign leaders, nearly 50 religious leaders from different faiths, other prominent figures like lawyers, doctors, artists, influencers, have also been invited. Padma Vibhushan, Padma Bhushan and Padma Shri awardees will also attend.

Snipers and armed guards

Snipers and armed Police will be deployed along the routes of the dignitaries, while drones will be stationed at strategic locations in the national capital.

Artificial Intelligence technology and intrusion warning systems will be used for scanning and facial recognition, and snipers will be positioned at strategic locations and high-rise buildings.

As the event is scheduled to be held inside Rashtrapati Bhavan, it will have a three-layered security arrangement both inside and outside the premises. Commandos from Delhi Police's SWAT (Special Weapons And Tactics) and NSG will be deployed around the President's house and at various strategic locations on the day of the event.

Following the swearing-in, the leaders will attend a banquet hosted by President Droupadi Murmu at the Rashtrapati Bhavan, on the same evening.

WORD OF THE DAY

Dumbledore

Pronunciation: duhm-buhl-dawr.
Meaning: A bumblebee.
Origin: Dumble - was a prefix that was used to refer to various insects, and it has close cousins in humble-, bumble-, and dummel-, which some etymologists tie to dumb. Dore, or dor, is a word that dates back to almost 700 AD and refers to bees or flies. Bumblebees, with their bobbing, wavering, slow flight, might have looked dull or lazy, which accounts for the combination of dore and the dumb-adjacent prefix dumble-.
Example: The dumbledore buzzed happily among flowers, collecting nectar.

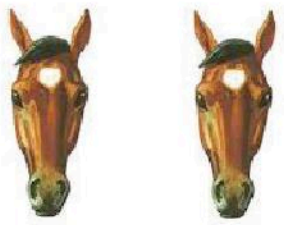
THE ODD WORD

Deambulatory

Place for walking around or about in.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Dead Ringer



Meaning: The phrase 'Dead Ringer' is used to indicate that one person or thing is exactly like another.
Origin: The expression 'Dead Ringer' comes from American horse racing and originated at the end of the 19th century, when a horse that would be raced under a false name and pedigree was called a ringer. The word 'dead' in this expression refers not to lifelessness, but to "precise" or "exact."
Example: "Jennifer is a dead ringer for her grandmother."

QUOTE BOX

To the well-organized mind, death is but the next great adventure.
